

Radiant Darkness III - The Crimson Stars

Radiant are the stars which I can't see
'cause my eyes and my mind, they disagree
Veiled my senses -
by flickering lights of unknown misery

It's so dark outside - Inside my rain of cries
While you're talking to me with empty words

Radiant are the stars which I can't see
'cause my eyes and my mind don't disagree
Veiled my senses -
by flickering lights of unknown misery

My voracious, voracious mind
On its distorting, distorting flight

Seeks what I never deserve
What I've never become
What I've never possessed
To rule all time over me

My voracious, voracious mind
On its distorting, distorting flight - Roar!!!

I've walked the streets in fear
I've hidden myself behind crimson walls
I've felt a shock - it was my darkness
Those ebony, those radiant stars

Ebony are the stars which don't exist
Radiant are the stars I can resist
Unveiled my senses
Reality now belongs to me
