

morning dew

whatever you think, we're doing here – it's not to entertain well, there's one thing that you should know, unless you are here in vain we want you to put down your masks, to show what's underneath but if you plan to sit and wait, then you should better leave we want your souls

you got a certain feeling that you're not yourself at all?
you're trying to escape yourself, but you got fear to fall?

so come right here, we know your lot let's join together now i tell you, we don't want your money – we just want your souls wake up!

we play a game that people use to call "reality" but we try hard to realize its relativity

'cause nothing is for sure their truth is just a whore, I'm gonna show to you
